How Red Kap® Uniforms Keep You Feeling Warm All Over

Let's be real — outerwear shouldn't be an afterthought. When your team is braving the elements (or just bouncing between breakrooms and loading docks), they need workwear that's got their backs, fronts, and everything in between.

Rain? Wind? Temperature swings that can't make up their mind? No sweat. Red Kap outerwear is made for when Mother Nature can't make up her mind — built to keep your team warm, dry, and ready to roll, whatever the weather.

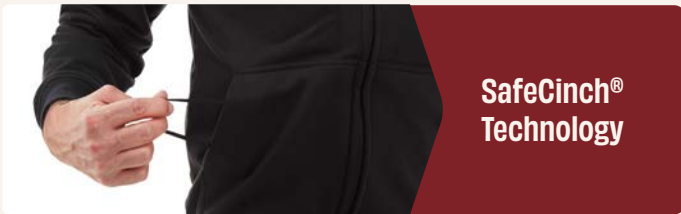

We're talking more than just warmth — we're talking next-level comfort, productivity, and elevated brand image screams, "we showed up, we're comfy, and we're crushing it!" Think of it as the uniform equivalent of a warm hug and a high five. Not sure what your team needs? No problem! We've got you covered. Literally.

WORKWEAR THAT WORKS OVERTIME. (SO YOUR TEAM DOESN'T HAVE TO)

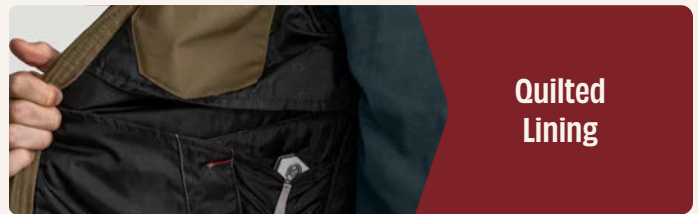

Red Kap outerwear is designed with features that work as hard as our team does. Here's what sets it apart:

SafeCinch®
Technology

No more swinging drawstrings or tangled cords. SafeCinch® tucks them away neatly in pockets. It's a clean, no-fuss feature that keeps safety (and style) top of mind.

Why It Matters: Fewer distractions and reduced risk of caught cords or snags mean a safer work environment and fewer on-the-job accidents — helping to protect both your team and your bottom line.

Quilted
Lining

Cozy comfort that powers up productivity—perfect for chilly mornings, cold warehouses, or those surprise April snow flurries.

Why It Matters: When employees are warm and comfortable, they're less likely to take unnecessary breaks or layer up in a way that limits movement. That means better performance and a more professional appearance on the job.

Durable Water
Repellent
(DWR) Fabric

Your team's personal rain guard. This fabric fights off drizzle, downpours, and coffee spills alike. Wind and water don't stand a chance.

Why It Matters: When your team stays dry and focused, they stay productive — no lost time due to discomfort or wet gear. Plus, less frequent laundering helps extend garment life and reduce replacement costs.

Flexible
Fabric

Whether they're bending, reaching, lifting, or dancing through the day — our outerwear moves with your team, not against them.

Why It Matters: Comfortable employees perform better and work more efficiently. Mobility-friendly workwear reduces strain and fatigue, which can help cut down on workplace injuries and improve morale.

BUILT WITH PURPOSE. STYLED WITH CONFIDENCE.

At Red Kap, we're not just about performance — we're about purpose-built outerwear that supports it. Every stitch, fabric, and feature is thoughtfully designed to solve real workday challenges. No fluff. All function.

But let's not forget the power of a good first impression. Our outerwear delivers a clean, polished look that elevates your entire team — and your brand along with it. When your team looks good, they feel good. And when they feel good, the work speaks for itself (loudly and proudly).

So, whether your team is on the job site, out on deliveries, or greeting customers at the door, they'll show up warm, confident, and totally on-brand.

Outfit your team with outerwear built to take on Mother Nature—whatever she throws your way.
